Description

The Force is a metaphysical and ubiquitous power. People like the Jedi seek to "become one with the Force", matching their personal wills with the will of the Force, while the Sith exploit the Force and try to bend it toward their destructive desires.

Microscopic lifeforms called midi-chlorians, which exist inside all living cells, allow some people to be Force-sensitive; a person must have a high enough midi-chlorian count to feel and use the Force. Midi-chlorians are sentient, and arguably were the first species to emerge in the Star Wars universe. The species was a foundation of all life, as some deemed life impossible without midi-chlorians, and ultimately resided in all living beings, connecting two aspects of the Force. The Living Force (also known as a spirit or life essence) is the energy generated by all living things. Through midi-chlorians, it is fed into the Cosmic Force, which bounds all things and communicates with living sentient beings.
